INDEPENDENTS IN TENNESSEE SAY HOOPER IS RIGHT

Interviews With Leaders of Anti-Patterson Forces in Volunteer State.

Talk of Governors Withdrawal Renewed.

FRIENDS SAY HE WILL NOT.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Judging by the many expressions heard from the independent Democratic leaders who are in the city, they have come to attend last night's conference and state committee, the nomination of Capt. Ben W. Hooper as the Republican candidate for governor is giving satisfaction among the Lost His Roll.

While J. W. Shepherd, general foreman of the Illinois Central railroad shops at Fulton, was en route from Union station to the city this morning his purse containing $107 and an annual pass over the Illinois Central lines, slipped from his pocket. He noted the loss after leaving the car and the police department was asked to help find the purse.

Village Is Swept.

New York, Aug. 19.—Garfield, a village near Passaic, N. J., was swept by a cloudburst last night and early yesterday morning, and as a result there is much damaged property there. Water three feet deep filled the roads in places, and traffic was almost impossible.

In the lower section the storm did its worst work the sand being washed upon the trolley tracks and tying up the system. In many places trees were uprooted and thrown across sidewalks and roads, but as far as known there was no loss of life or serious injury to any of the residents.

MEDALS FOR AVIATORS.

Le Blanc Auburn First and Second in Long Air Race.

Paris, Aug. 19.—The municipality of Paris is arranging a dinner, at which the famous gold medal of the city of Paris will be presented to Le Blanc and Auburn, who finished first and second respectively, in the great aviation cross-country race completed yesterday. Le Gagneux, who finished with them, although prevented by accident from completing the full course, also will receive the medal.

HIS TICKET SAILS FOR IRELAND.

Duffy Couldn't Go With It All Because Dye See, It Went First.

New York, Aug. 19.—Patrick Duffy, of West Philadelphia, bought a ticket entitling him to return to his native land in the third cabin of the Cunard Mauretania, which sailed yesterday. He stowed the ticket away in his trunk and sent the trunk by express to the Cunard pier. It arrived and was put aboard. Later Duffy also arrived and was asked for his ticket. He said it was aboard in his trunk. Therefore the trunk sailed without him. He may pay for another ticket and go by another ship and when he presents the ticket that he has in his trunk to the Cunard line office in Liverpool he will get back his money. He regretted that he did not think of putting his ticket in his grip, which he brought to the pier with him.

CADY CONCEDES DEFEAT.

Dahlman Probably Secured Democratic Nomination.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 19.—The Bee this morning announces that Cady practically concedes his defeat by Aldrich in the race for the Republican nomination for governor and that Aldrich claims a majority of over 10,000. The paper, which supported Cady during the campaign, expresses the opinion that Aldrich has won by a small majority and that Dahlman has secured the Democratic nomination, although Shallenberger still claims it. Aldrich has been a strong advocate of county option, while Dahlman is as openly its opponent. Both Shallenberger and Cady took a middle ground on the question.

United States Senator Burkett and Congressman Hitchcock have secured the nomination for the senatorship by heavy majorities.

Paducah is to have another moving picture theater. Mr. Joseph Desberger, the owner of the Star theater has leased the building recently occupied by the Racket store at 407 Broadway, for the purpose. Mr. Desberger will either put on a high class vaudeville show or an up-to-date moving picture. He intends spending several thousand dollars in remodeling both the interior and exterior of the building, and will open about the first of October.

MARRY ON THE SPOT IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE

Slowly but surely Col. Gus G. Singleton's sanatorium at the county court house is becoming hallowed ground. Two marriage ceremonies have been performed there within 24 hours. Willie Mitchell, aged 21, and Bessie Johnston, 22 years old, of Hamlet, burg, Ill., came here this morning, and after obtaining a marriage license they decided to marry right on the spot. County Judge Barkley was called over into the county clerk's offices and tied the knot. The newlyweds returned home this afternoon. Yesterday afternoon Magistrate C. W. Emery married Sam Eubanks and Bettie Moore, of this county in Col. Singleton's office.

Autograph Letter From Mr. Roosevelt

Mr. Ben Weille is possessor of an autograph letter from former President Roosevelt, declining an invitation to the Paducah fall fair. Recently Mr. Roosevelt announced in the Outlook that it is impossible for him to read all his correspondence, to say nothing of answering all the letters, and the fact that this invitation was considered worthy of a personal reply is an honor in itself.

The letter on an Outlook letterhead says:

"My dear Sir:
"I wish I could accept, but it is a simple impossibility. I have received literally thousands of similar requests and with the best wishes in the world it has proved impossible for me to accept one in a hundred of these invitations. I deeply appreciate the courtesy and kindness

It is rumored that every car left the track and that the wreck is now burning. Owing to the remoteness of the scene, it will be some time before more definite information is received.

Fifteen injured have been taken out of the wreck. So far no dead have been found. All the cars except three sleepers were overturned. The cars overturned were the mail, express and combination cars and two passenger coaches.

Through the Paducah police department Julian Reeves, a merchant of Kevil, has recovered one-third of the amount of bacon that was stolen from his smokehouse last week. The bacon was found in possession of C. F. Schraeder, a groceryman at Thirteenth and Monroe streets, who had purchased it from a negro for $4.85. Mr. Reeves was notified of the discovery and he arrived this morning and took the bacon home. Mr. Schraeder willingly gave up the meat and the police are now on the trail of the negro who sold it to him. With his arrest they expect to recover the remainder of the bacon.

Skull Crushed.

Owenton, Ky., Aug. 19.—The body of William Wilhoit, who had been missing for two days, was found by the lock-keeper at Monterey in the Kentucky river. The body was just above the lock, with the skull crushed. There seems to have been no way in which this injury could have been suffered by accident, so it is believed he was murdered. Wilhoit was a great fisherman and frequently went to lonely spots along the river. Officers are working on the case.

WOMAN'S SCREAM DRIVES BURGLAR OUT OF BEDROOM

Had Struck a Match, and Was Looking For Plunder
When She Awoke.

Downtown Boarding House is Alarmed.

POLICEMAN ALMOST HELD UP.

Awakened suddenly from her sleep at 1 o'clock this morning by a flash, Mrs. Eva Webb, of Fifth street and Broadway, was startled to find a burglar standing over her. She screamed to the top of her voice and the intruder disappeared into the hallway and down the steps. The screams aroused all of the boarders and a hunt was inaugurated.

He had evidently intended to commit robbery, and after going into Mrs. Webb's room on the second floor, he struck a match just at her head. The flash awakened her. She was unable to tell whether he was a white man or a negro and the police were notified. No trace of the man could be found, although a thorough search of the premises was made. Mrs. Webb missed nothing from her room this morning.

Might Have Been Hold-Up.

Alertness on the part of Patrolman C. D. Gilliam prevented his being held up near Union station just before dawn today by a negro, whom he thinks he arrested an hour later.

Mr. Gilliam left home just before daybreak, and as he neared the "Y" tracks of the Illinois Central railroad near the Union station, he distinguished a suspicious form approaching him. As the negro came closer Mr. Gilliam drew his revolver.

"What do you want?" he inquired.

Just as the inquiry escaped his lips the negro pulled something from his pocket and darted past the patrolman. He fled through the fall into the woods towards the south yards and Mr. Gilliam fired six shots at the retreating form. The negro was a dark, low and heavy set man. About 5:30 o'clock Mr. Gilliam spotted a negro, whose description tallied with that of his would-be assailant. He placed the fellow under arrest on the station platform and took him to police headquarters. The negro gave his name as Charles Crump, but denied he was the man. When searched a razor was taken from him and he was charged with carrying concealed a deadly weapon. His trial in police court this morning was continued until tomorrow.

The horses ran into the coffin room of the Ligon Furniture company, on First street, throwing both men out of the buggy, injuring Mr. Forrester so severely that he had to be carried to his home on a cot, and is reported to be in a serious condition. Mr. Isbell was not so seriously injured.

ANOTHER SWOPE CLAIMANT.

Canada Man Wants a Portion of the Estate.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 19.—Another claimant to the fortune left by Col. Thomas H. Swope, for whose murder Dr. B. Clarke Hyde was sentenced to life imprisonment, has appeared in the shape of Adam J. Swope, of Kowaka, Canada. Judge Ralph Latschaw, of the criminal court, received a letter from Adam, in which the Canadian stated that he was a son of Levi Swope, of Pennsylvania, and believed he must be a nephew of Colonel Swope.

Judge Latschaw said he had never heard of Levi Swope, although many Swope have made their existence evident since the death of the Colonel, who left a fortune of several million dollars to be divided.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 19.—Paducah turned the tables yesterday and won from Hopkinsville by a score of 6 to 2. Runyan displayed some star twirling, allowing only 5 hits while Lyons Demarre and Brown for the Lunatics were rapped for 12 hits. Demarre started the game but was taken out of the box and Lyons was substituted. His curves failed to work and Brown was put in the box as the last resort. He was hit freely and lacked the support of the field. Block showed up in good form with the willow and Lockhart exhibited some fine playing.

The Indians ascended in the percentage column.

New Faces in Line-Up.

A big bunch of fans should turn out tomorrow afternoon at league park to see the new faces in the Indians' line-up. The new players, one for the infield and one for the outfield have been wired tickets and will arrive tomorrow, while Jesse Gilbert is in communication with another fast infielder for Paducah.

Paducah will return from Hopkinsville tonight, playing the last game there this afternoon. Hopkinsville will be here for a series of three games and the directors of the local club believe the new players will set Paducah on a pace that will result in a close race for the pennant.

R. Kyle, a swift outfielder of Terre Haute, Ind., was tipped to Mr. Gilbert, one of the directors, yesterday and when he got in communication with him Kyle informed him of M. A. Decker, a fast infielder, who is at liberty. Immediately Mr. Gilbert wired tickets. Decker will cover third sack for the Indians. He is a star player and was formerly with the Lincoln, Neb., team in the Western league. Both he and Kyle will reach here tomorrow and be in the game. Mr. Gilbert refused to disclose the name of the third player he is after, but says he believes he will be able to connect. He will be used for the infield. The addition of new players will materially strengthen the Indians. Delightful news to the fans is that Dave Anderson, the crack little short stop, has decided to stick with the Indians and joined the team at Hoptown yesterday, playing at his regular post. A highly complimentary notice that is due Anderson appears in yesterday's issue of the Vincennes Capital. It says: Paducah and Harrisburg newspapers are quarreling over which team has the better shortstop. As Harrisburg has not been seen here it is not known what class of a player Turner is. Few shortstops, however, are much swifter than Dave Anderson and few cover more ground. Heck, of Clarksville, however, has shown up here equally well as well as Anderson. When it comes

Feet Tired--
So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter
What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof. It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that ails the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet," suffered intense pain. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used."—A. F. Dresser, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person. TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter L. Her Dodge & Co., Dodge Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

to all around work Stanley, released by Vincennes, a few weeks ago, because of being unpopular with the fans and players, had it on any short stop in the league.

The line-up for Paducah tomorrow afternoon here will probably be: Overton, c; Payne, p; Cox, 1b; Barnadore, 2b; Decker, 3b; Angermehr, cf; Anderson, ss; Kyle, rf; Block, lf. Gwin is slated to do the twirling today for Paducah at Hopkinsville. Tomorrow "Dummy" Payne will pitch, if able, and Overton will catch. Both have been crippled. Lockhart will probably be on the bench.

"Rubber" Cox is able to be back in the game again and will cover first sack tomorrow. Arthur Long, a former Paducah and Cairo player, who has been in the Blue Grass league for some time, will probably be taken on by the Indians for a trial. He is a hard hitter and a brilliant fielder.

Longfellow's Latest Honor.

In a little triangular space on Connecticut avenue in Washington there is a handsome statue of the poet Longfellow. A young society girl of the city was riding past it in an automobile with a friend soon after it had been unveiled.

"Why, what statue is that?" she asked.

"Longfellow's," replied the older woman.

"Oh, I don't see what they wanted to put a statue of him there for," more ground. Heck, of Clarksville, however, has shown up here equally well as well as Anderson. When it comes

IN INDIAN LAND CONTRACTS

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 19.—"It has been charged that you, through Jake L. Hamon, offered Senator T. P. Gore $25,000 or $50,000 as a bribe to influence him in congress to withdraw his opposition to the approval of your contracts. Did you, or did you not offer Gore such a bribe?"

J. F. McMurray answered "No" to this question in the hearing before the congressional commission investigation of the Indian land affairs.

McMurray was on the stand all day. The questions were propounded to him by Cecil H. Smith, his counsel.

"Did you ever tell any one that Vice President Sherman had an interest in any of your contracts?"

"I never did."

"Did you accuse him of saying that Sherman was interested?"

"I did not."

"Did Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, ever have an interest in the contracts?"

"He never did. I never told any one he did."

"Did you ever tell any one that Congressman R. S. McQuire had an interest in any of your contracts?"

"I never did."

"Has any member of congress or any employee of any department of the government any interest in your contract?"

"They have not."

The witness also denied that he ever offered a $25,000 bribe to D. C. McCurtain, a Choctaw lawyer.

HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT.

Will Try to Get Company and the Strikers to Arbitrate.

Columbus, Aug. 19.—It became known today that the plans along which Governor Harmon hopes to effect peace in the street car strike involve an effort to bring about willingness on the part of the Columbus Railway and Light company to arbitrate the differences with the strikers. The union is willing to arbitrate but the company has refused to consider proposals.

President Pretzman of the chamber of commerce, today asked Business Agent Miller, of the Carmen's union, if it would accept a settlement proposal involving an increase of wages to 25 cents per hour and abandon their demand for recognition and wearing the union button. Miller said the proposal would not be satisfactory.

Grand Jury Examined Witnesses as to Alleged Rebate.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Efforts to discover an alleged "working agreement" between Armour & company, Morris & company, Swift & company and other Chicago packers were made here today by the federal grand jury investigating the packers.

Witnesses were questioned today concerning alleged rebate lists, weekly bulletins on prices, and orders said to have been sent from the Chicago headquarters, allotting the daily amount of business each branch should transact.

Defective Flue Fire.
A defective kitchen flue at the residence of W. H. Little, 1007 Madison street started a fire that was answered by No. 3 hose and No. 4 truck companies. The fire was quickly extinguished with a loss of only about $25. Leaving No. 3 station the hose wagon ran over the water spaniel "Topsy" of Capt. Jack Slaughter, fracturing the mongrel's leg.

"I thought surely you'd sell that lot of sausage," declared the grocer. "You praised it highly enough." "I praised it too darned much," said his assistant. "It overheard me, wagged its tail."—Chicago Journal.

WHY COMETS DISAPPEAR.

Halley's great comet has doubled its long journey through the sky. For the case of the sun has commenced over 35 years it will rush through trackless space at a rate of speed past our comprehension. It will stop at no way stations. After this long journey it will swing about in its celestial pathway towards the sun again. Its return will consume another 35 years, provided it shall return at all. Should it have attained sufficient momentum in its present visit to carry it beyond the confines of our solar system it may be seized upon by the attractive power of another sun, and may never return to us again. It is very probable that many of our comets have left our system forever, and that many comets from other systems have come to us. The journey which this comet is to make is a perilous one. It is attended with many dangers. Planets are scattered through the sky. They are sending out their attractive forces across the comet's path. They are dangerous highwaymen. They may draw the comet in to themselves or may convert it into a satellite to revolve around some primary.—Prof. Samuel Phelps Leland in the Christian Herald.

CANNON TO RUN FOR SPEAKERSHIP

LONGWORTH WILL NOT VOTE FOR UNCLE JOE.

Roosevelt Will Keep Out of Campaign, But Reserves Right to Enter Fight.

A CONFERENCE AT BEVERLY.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 19.—Despite the declaration of Congressman Longworth that he will not again vote for Joseph G. Cannon for speaker of the house of representatives, Cannon will continue the race, according to a statement made to the Associated Press Thursday. He will go into the caucus as a candidate, no matter how many Republican congressmen declare they will oppose his re-election. There is no doubt that Cannon believes Longworth's statement was inspired by President Taft. He did not say so in so many words, but intimated as much.

Cannon's statement in part says: "In the present campaign, so far as I am concerned, I shall do what I can to bring about the election of a Republican house of representatives to the sixty-first congress and without a Republican majority in the next house there will be no Republican speaker. In the event of my re-election as a member I shall attend and abide by the action of the Republican caucus, and from his statement I believe Longworth will do the same, as well as every Republican member of the house."

"If any Republican candidate on the Republican ticket would be strengthened by pledging that he will not support me in the Republican caucus, I have no objection to his making the pledge."

Roosevelt's Plans.
Oyster Bay, Aug. 19.—A group of his closest friends and Col. Roosevelt talked over the situation which has become known as the strained relations between himself and President Taft, which are declared to be at the breaking point.

William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican county committee, Representative William C. Adler, of Brooklyn, Frederick J. H. Kracke, of Brooklyn, and Representative W. W. Cocks, of Col. Roosevelt's home district, took part in the conference.

By what was said by some of the visitors it was learned that the ex-president and his friends have agreed on a plan of action which will hold until the situation shapes itself more clearly.

Briefly stated it is this: Roosevelt is to stand aside in the New York state campaign and let the "old guard" fight its own fight, and thus shoulder all responsibility for the conduct and result of the campaign. He is neither to endorse nor criticize the Taft administration. He is going to keep out all around, if he can.

Those with whom he talked were made to understand clearly that Roosevelt reserves to himself the right to enter the thick of the fight at any time, if he believes that the policies of which he is exponent are in serious jeopardy. But he let it be known that he would do so with extreme reluctance, for he feels that in

RED NOSES CLEARED.

Effect of Poslam, the New Skin Remedy, is Immediately Perceptible.

"I have been troubled with red nose and eczema for nearly eight years until I discovered poslam, the new magic cure. My face was a sight, and I was ashamed to be seen on the street. I was surprised to see the improvement after a month's treatment and I have a nice, clear complexion from which the pimples and my red nose disappeared like magic," says Charles F. Slutter, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. "My nose would be like a boil," says Carl D. Steinhoff, Columbus, Ohio, "not only painful, but embarrassing. I have given poslam a thorough trial. My face became smooth and fair. My nose is a natural color and does not get sore."

Poslam is the new skin remedy, naturally flesh-colored, which heals and hides all skin imperfections. Although primarily intended for eczema—stopping the itching with first application and rapidly restoring the health of the skin—poslam shows immediate and surprising results when used for less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, blotches, inflammations, etc.

Poslam is on sale in 50-cent boxes and $2 jars at all druggists, particularly by Gilbert's drug store and R. W. Walker & Co. A free sample may be obtained by mail in plain wrapper by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

such a contingency he might be led into a controversy with the Taft administration.

Insurgents Claim All.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—It was claimed at the Lincoln-Roosevelt headquarters that not only would the "insurgents" have nine-tenths of the delegates to the state convention, which will adopt a party platform, but they will control both branches of the legislature to elect a successor to United States Senator Frank P. Flint. The insurgents claim that, notwithstanding the closeness of the advisory vote for United States senator, the result of which the official count must determine, John D. Works their candidate for party endorsement, undoubtedly won by a wide margin.

Will Confer With Taft.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Charles D. Hilles, assistant secretary of the treasury department, departed for Beverly and will see President Taft there. While he goes to talk over departmental affairs it is no secret that the president considers Hilles well informed in New York politics and has confidence in his political sagacity. Therefore it is assumed that the situation in New York will be discussed. Hilles has been mentioned as a possible gubernatorial nominee in New York, as he is said to be acceptable to all factions of the party.

INDEPENDENTS

anti-Patterson element of the party. Here are a few expressions secured from leaders now in the city from all sections of Tennessee:

Col. B. A. Enloe.

Col. B. A. Enloe: "I publicly declared in every speech I made during the late campaign that I would vote for any straight-forward, honest man to beat Patterson, because he has made his elimination a public necessity. We must eliminate Patterson and Pattersonism. Another rose from the same bush would smell no better. He has used the vicious and the ignorant, both black and white, to enable him to dominate the state, and he has disrupted the Democratic party by his usurpation of power. He has drawn the line between right and wrong in place of party lines, and we are forced to choose between the rule of the vicious and the lawless and the reign of law and order. I shall vote for Captain B. W. Hooper, the representative of a better Democratic organization than that which stands for Pattersonism. We must take steps to reorganize the Democratic party on Democratic lines, and we can only do that by ridding the state of Pattersonism."

Gen. H. H. Hannah.

Gen. H. H. Hannah: "On the 18th of May, in the greatest Democratic convention ever convened in this state, in an humble speech I declared that the political conditions that confronted the people was not a partisan fight, but a political revolution, involving the question whether the people themselves and the enforcement of the law should control the destiny of Tennessee, or whether lawlessness and a machine oligarchy should continue in power. From that convention platform we carried the question direct to the great jury of the people, and on the fourth day of August they returned a verdict of 46,000 majority in favor of the rule of the people and the supremacy of the law."

"Revolutions never go backward, and in the very nature of things they never stand still, and the revolution in Tennessee will continue in full force and effect until the last vestige of Pattersonism and machine rule is wiped out—which will occur in the November election."

Gen. Hannah was asked if he knew Captain Hooper, and said: "I do and very favorably. He is one of the strongest, cleanest and manliest young men in Eastern Tennessee. He has proven himself not only capable and worthy in every undertaking he has attempted, but in them all has shown himself to be a natural born leader of men. Our Republican friends have made no mistake in placing their standard in his hands."

Will Support Him.

State Senator J. N. Fisher, of Carthage: "I expect to heartily support Captain Hooper for governor. I prefer to support a 'straight Republican' to a crooked Democrat. I believe the only way to restore to the Democratic party the right of self-government is to overthrow the Patterson machine, and to this end I shall not hesitate to do my utmost."

Hon. A. H. Tipton, state fire marshal: "Capt. Ben Hooper is the most able nominee the Republican party could have selected. In Newport, his home town, the Democrats and even the Patterson supporters will support him almost to a man."

Mr. J. B. Brabson, independent Democratic committeeman from Sevier: "Capt. Hooper is a good man. I have known him a long time and he has a good record."

Representative S. L. Chestnut, of Rogersville: "Capt. Hooper is as clean as a pin. He is bright, honest, a fine business man, will make a good campaign and will carry East Tennessee by 50,000 majority."

Mr. J. I. Finney, editor Columbia Herald: "I believe this is the time when duty demands patriotism above party. Tennessee before either the Democratic or the Republican party, Captain Hooper represents the forces of law and order and in my judgment it is the duty of every patriotic citizen in Tennessee, regardless of past party affiliations, to accord him their hearty support."

Lea Will Vote for Him.

Mr. Luke Lea, of Nashville: "It will give me pleasure to vote for and to support Captain Hooper's candidacy in every possible way. In spite of the sources of his nomination he is the best Democrat running."

Hon. T. N. Greer, of Bedford county: "I think the independent Democrats of Bedford county will support Captain Hooper. No better nomination could have been made. He is satisfactory to both wings of the Republican party in Bedford county."

Mr. W. V. Barry, editor Lexington Progress: "I have heard no objections to Captain Hooper. Personally I will support and back for him. I believe he will carry the support of the anti-administration Democrats of Henderson county and receive the support of the white Republicans with the exception of some whisky advocates who would vote for Patterson no matter who the party would nominate."

Gen. C. T. Cates, Jr.

Attorney-General Charles T. Cates Jr.: "Capt. Hooper is a self-made, clean man, an able lawyer, a successful business man and he demands the respect and confidence of the people wherever he is known."

Mr. T. B. Lytle, Murfreesboro: "As against Patterson and Pattersonism I will support and take the stump for Hooper."

Former State Senator J. J. Bean, of Lynchburg: "I have known Capt. Hooper many years. I was in the legislature with him and found him a clean, honest, conscientious and capable representative. So far as I am able to learn, his nomination meets with the approval of the independent Democrats, as he seems to be the character of a man to defeat Pattersonism. I believe if elected he will make a wise and capable governor."

Mr. T. B. Johnson, of Franklin, secretary independent Democratic state committee: "With a long Democratic record back of me I don't feel I am violating it to attempt to purge it of the so-called leader, Patterson. I don't regard Patterson as the regular nominee of my party as his nomination was procured by methods entirely un-Democratic and I will not subscribe to them. I will support Capt. Hooper and do all in my power to secure his election."

"Boys of Old Williamson."

Judge J. H. Henderson of Franklin: "While I know little personally about Captain Hooper, our information is that he is all right and practically all our friends in Williamson county will support him as the best way to form a Democratic party."

Secretary George Renfro, of the state Republican executive committee: "The Republicans of the state seem entirely satisfied with the nomination of Captain Hooper. I think the selection of the convention was wise. Capt. Hooper is a strong man and will win."

Independents for Hooper.

Mr. W. N. Porter, Spring Hill: "I do not know of a single man who voted for the free and untrammelled judiciary who will fall to vote for Capt. Hooper for governor."

Col. Henry G. Evans, Columbia: "No man throughout my section who voted for the independent judiciary will vote for Patterson. There are a few who want him defeated, but will not vote for a Republican. I fought through one war, and I know that when a crisis came men were not expected to have blank cartridges in their guns. Blank cartridge men is what the stay-at-home independents are; but Tennesseans are not given to that kind of warfare, and I believe there will be but few of them who will not be on the firing-line when the crisis comes."

Will Support Hooper.

Mr. E. Rice, Dyersburg: "There is no question but that the independent Democrats of my section of the state will, practically to a man, support Capt. Ben Hooper for governor."

Hon. E. W. Thomas, of Waverly, formerly chief clerk of the senate: "Capt. Hooper, as a candidate for governor, is entirely satisfactory to the independent Democrats of Humphreys county, and that entire section of the state, so far as my knowledge goes."

Will Bury Patterson.

Col. E. H. Hatcher, Columbia: "I have met Capt. Hooper, and he impressed me as being a quiet, dignified gentleman, of keen intellectuality. From his reputation, I am satisfied that he will fill the office of governor with entire acceptability to all honest, intelligent and fair-minded Tennesseans. I expect to do all in my power to secure his overwhelming election. Senator Carmack was assassinated on October 9, 1908. On the second anniversary of his assassination the people of Tennessee will bury the governor who reversed the decree of Cooper's conviction in insulting and defamatory language. Patterson and Pattersonism will no longer curse the Democratic party or the people of the state."

Mr. W. A. Overall, Gallatin: "I am much pleased with the nomination of Capt. Hooper for governor. His candidacy will be acceptable to the independent Democrats of Sumner county."

Will Governor Withdraw?

Notwithstanding recent statements from the governor's most intimate political friends to the effect that he will certainly remain in the contest until the end "even if he should receive but one vote in November," as one expressed it, there are many rumors that the governor will resign his third term nomination and will put it up to the opposing Democratic factions to get together on some mutual terms of agreement and select a compromise candidate for governor.

Certain it is that there is an influential element among the supporters of Governor Patterson who believe it would be wise for him to withdraw for the sake of harmony and unity. These men have expressed themselves in no uncertain terms, and if they have not already done so have declared their purpose to advise the governor accordingly.

One plan which finds its origin among a few, at least, of the governor's followers, is this: "Call a meeting of the Democratic state executive committee for an early date. Let Governor Patterson present to that meeting his resignation as the 'regular' party nominee for governor. Then let the existing committee call an election in each of the ten congressional districts in the state, Democrats alone, of course, to participate for the choice of an entirely new state executive committee to come directly from the people. Upon the election of this new committee, let the existing committee, composed entirely of administration Democrats, resign, and when the new committee elected by the people meets call a Democratic convention or primary for the purpose of nominating a new candidate for governor."

What He Might Say.

The opinion has been expressed by some that the governor will, shortly before the meeting of the proposed independent Democratic state convention in September, step down and out. They believe it very possible, if not probable, that the governor will say to the present 'regular' state committee something like this: "It is evident that I and the issues I represent constitute the disturbing factor in the Democratic party. I am for the perpetuation and welfare and harmony of the party above all else, and do not propose to permit my personal ideas to stand in the way of party harmony. I, therefore, return to the party my nomination and bid the two Democratic factions adopt such measures as may be mutually agreed upon for the purpose of uniting the warring elements within the party ranks and the selection of a candidate for governor who can and will receive the support of all Democrats irrespective of past party factional differences."

Should this be done it would then be for the two party factions to say what plan would be followed. What the result of such a contingency might be cannot yet be foretold.

Fight It Out, They Say.

There is a strong sentiment in the ranks of the independent Democrats against accepting any plans proposed from the administration side. They look with more or less distrust, to say the least of it, upon any plans suggested for "party harmony" from the Patterson wing of the party. They express a determination to continue the fight on the issues of the campaign which have already been so distinctly drawn. They do not look with approval upon any possible compromise proposition. They say the line of battle has been drawn and so far as they are concerned they do not propose to subscribe to any plan which may be placed in the hands of the existing "regular" state Democratic committee for execution.

Among the Patterson action leaders most of them appear to be standing pat and, as stated above, declare there is no chance of the governor withdrawing from the gubernatorial contest. Some of the leaders assert, also, that the governor will make another winning fight during the coming fall campaign and will for the third time be elected governor of Tennessee. There is, however, no doubt of the fact that a large percent of the governor's friends see the handwriting on the wall and do not believe, since the result of the judicial election in August that the governor can possibly win.

ITALY'S KING WORRIED.

Outbreak of Cholera in One of His Provinces.

Turin, Aug. 19.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena have displayed anxiety over the outbreak of cholera in the south, and the king has given orders that he be kept informed of the conditions in the infected regions.

The queen is especially touched by the stories of distress among the people of the province Bari Delle Puglie, and made inquiries regarding the needs, ordering that assistance be rendered for which she will pay from her private purse.

The king has already intimated his intention of imitating his father, who in 1885, fearless of danger, proceeded to Naples and remained among the cholera patients. The queen has positively declared that she would share the risks of the king.

Writers Now and Dickens.

It is an open secret that there are living writers, including writers for the stage who amass in two or three years what the mighty genius, the amazing popularity of Dickens could only accumulate in a lifetime. Why is this? It is owing to the privileges of a copyright law which Dickens did not live to see.

From America—that land where his works were acclaimed with such enthusiasm—he received no royalties whatever.

"Were each American who had derived pleasure from a book of Charles Dickens," wrote Mr. Richard Watson Gilder, "to pay Dickens or his heirs for that book so small a sum as five cents in royalties, the aggregate would not be thousands, but millions of dollars."

Average, July, 1909.....6818

Personally appeared before me the 2nd day of August, 1910, R. D. MacMillan, Business Manager of The Sun, who affirms that the foregoing is a true and correct statement of its circulation for the month of July, 1910, to the best of his knowledge and belief.

PETER PURYEAR,

Notary Public.

My commission expires January 10, 1912.

Daily Thought.

True dignity is never gained by place.

And never lost when honors are withdrawn.

He who knows not how to wait is not worthy to attain.—Gosparin.

Governor Patterson, says an exchange, is being roasted by the dependents for the conduct of the Tennessee primary, and by the regulars for not withdrawing. Done on both sides, so to speak.

A SHIPWRECKED OLD LADY.

"We think the editor of the Hickman Post-Village Twice-A-Week Gazette handed Col. Henry one.—Paducah Evening Sun.

"Take another 'think,' yer son-of-a-gun, one's coming to you!" says the Courier-Journal, which also says in pursuing the discussion: "The demand for prohibition drives at the very roots of the Democratic theory of government. The demand for the free and unlimited coinage of silver was merely an expedient of mistaken Democratic leaders. It brought shipwreck to a militant and triumphant organism. It drove us from what seemed a long and sure lease of power. All the Courier-Journal said was verified by events. It was a Democrat then. It is a Democrat now. It has never gone anywhere; just the same old lady at the corner, in steel-rimmed specs and Kentucky-made bombazine frock, tucked neatly up for better convenience in basting little boys with the cotton umbrella which she carries alike for the discipline of recalcitrant youth and protection against the inclemency of the weather."

We can't think any more, Colonel. You've got us so mixed up in your 'skirts' and your 'roots' and your 'ship-wreck,' that we don't know whether the Democratic party is more like a clipper rigged schooner yacht or a species of vegetable organism. On the whole, though, we guess you're right. It is a sort of mixed metaphor.

TAFT'S WAY AND ROOSEVELT'S WAY.

A clever cartoonist with prophetic vision might depict Mr. William H. Taft in the act of gently lifting Joe Cannon down off the elephant, with naughty Joe clinging tightly with both chubby fingers to the panoplied top of the huge animal.

Eventually Joe will come down, and, even though his fingers may ache from the tightness of his grip and tingle with the violence of the jerk with which he is separated from his position, the world will never know how grim the struggle between the speaker and the president, and Joe, looking up into the broad smiling face above him, will see there only an expression that will tell him "this hurts me worse than it does you, Joe."

For such is the way of William H. Taft.

He never has undertaken anything yet that he has not accomplished, and accomplished in a way to cause the least friction and humiliation, yet in a way that has never sacrificed principle to expediency. Theodore Roosevelt recognized this happy faculty in his secretary of war, when, after repeated tests, he threw his influence to Mr. Taft as the best fitted man to consummate those policies, which Roosevelt himself had advocated. And if Theodore Roosevelt made a mistake in his man, then Theodore Roosevelt has made the supreme blunder of his life, one that has undone all the good he ever accomplished, and we can trust him no longer.

This is important to keep in mind, because those frenzied newspaper correspondents, who told us how Roosevelt immediately upon his return would denounce the Taft administration, are now sure that Mr. Roosevelt will say the words on his western tour, they predicted he would say when he landed.

They acknowledge that they possess no facts to justify this conclusion. Mr. Taft's record of progressive legislation secured at the hands of his first congress under-Roosevelt Roosevelt in the matter of interstate commerce regulation and conservation. The same columns that contain the prediction of a split, express the opinion that Nicholas Longworth's rejection of Cannon for speaker was inspired at a conference with the president, and Cannon is Roosevelt's arch-enemy. The announcement that Senators Aldrich and Hale, also antagonists of the Roosevelt policies, will retire on account of ill health immediately following a session at which they were forced to support measures they formerly opposed, does not fit into the theory of a breach between Taft and Roosevelt. It looks as if, instead of being courted by President Taft, all the old leaders, who opposed Roosevelt, are being forced out of congress, gently to be sure, but none the less inevitably; for that is the way of William H. Taft.

It is to be expected that the average man of average intelligence, hedged in by the circumscribed horizon of private life, should think he understands the situation better and has a wider vision than the man of more than average intelligence, who views the situation from the high eminence of the white house. Consequently, President Taft is blind to the extent of the insurgent movement, and cannot appreciate the unrest that is stirring the country—so the average man seems to think.

The latest manifestation of mid-summer idiosyncrasy in the Washington story that the president, who holds in the "hollow of his hand" all the postoffice, revenue and treasury appointments of every congressional district in New York, has made a deal with so small a politician as Tim Sullivan to humiliate the country in exchange for Tim's support in the New York delegation in 1912. The average man knows that such a deal would be fatal to every chance of the president to secure New York's support in the Republican national convention, and we ought, at least, give the president of the United States credit for having average sense.

When Mr. Roosevelt cast his mantle upon Mr. Taft, he must have had some reason for his choice, and the career of the president is enough to justify the most sanguine expectations of his predecessor. When the dispute arose between the native Philippines and the vatican, regarding the disposition of friar lands in the Philippines, a trouble similar to that which has put Spain on the verge of civil war, William H. Taft was selected for the delicate task of settling the difficulty, which he did to the satisfaction of everybody. When a governor was needed for the new insular possessions of the United States, an officer for whose guidance the history of the world offered no precedents, President William McKinley swept the whole nation with an eye single for a man, who could handle the situation in such a way as to bring peace in the Philippine archipelago and reflect credit on the nation and the administration; for the commonest kind of failure, naturally to be expected under the untried circumstances with an alien race, would have brought discredit on the government and made McKinley's "manifest destiny" the joke of the century.

He chose William H. Taft, and so well was the work accomplished that the Philippines today are more peaceful than the state of Ohio has been since Taft left home. In the discharge of his duties concerning the Panama canal as secretary of war and in his diplomatic mission around the world Mr. Taft displayed the same executive ability and compelling charm.

He possesses all the magnetism of McKinley with the decisiveness of Roosevelt.

In his campaign for election he advocated a postal savings bank, and we have it; he advocated a protective tariff based on the difference between the cost of production here and abroad, and he secured a law, providing for a commission of experts, who are securing data at this moment; he advocated the extension of the powers of the interstate commerce commission to regulate railroad rates, and the law went into effect this week; he advocated executive authority to withhold public lands, containing mineral deposits and water power sites from private entry, and has reserved nearly a hundred million acres under the act; he favored a new employer's liability law, and got it; he favored commercial reciprocity with Canada and has made terms with that government; he favored free trade with the Philippines and won it.

He secured this progressive legislation, too, without taking sides in the Republican factional fight in congress. He is head of his party, as well as head of the nation—not a faction leader. Whether the "insurgents" or old "regulars" win is to the president of less consequence than securing legislative enactment of the policies he proposes.

What he needed to secure the legislation he advocated were votes, and Republican votes; for he could depend only on those, who were elected on the same platform with him to support his measures. There were not enough insurgent votes to enact the laws, and not enough regular votes. Had he taken sides with the one against the other, he would have split the majority in congress in twain without gaining a single law in conformity with his policies. He assumed it to be his duty to get the laws passed, and let the factions fight it out among themselves. To him everyone was a Republican, who voted in accordance with the national Republican platform pledges, and no one was deserving of recognition as such, who voted against Republican measures. Thus it was that some hot-headed, hard-livered insurgents, who felt bitter toward the president for not taking their side and opposed the presidential program, found themselves outside the federal patronage crib. And how highly they esteemed the privileges of the majority party is evidenced by the loudness of their protests.

The success of the progressives all over the country has naturally been felt at Beverly. The cautious application of pressure to Joe Cannon, Senator Aldrich and Secretary Ballinger to force their retirement from places of influence without disturbing party equilibrium, is the presidential recognition accorded popular sentiment. Opposition papers and speakers, who are aiding the sentiment for the insurgents, are not hurting the administration, but simply hastening the realignment of the majority party. It is the work of Murdock, Beveridge, Cummins—yes, and Roosevelt—to exercise force in wresting control of the national party organization away from the reactionaries, and some of them will be killed politically in the struggle; for that is the law of war. But President Taft's political responsibility is to hold the party together while the readjusting process is going on, and when the fight is over and the progressives are in the saddle in every congressional district, William H. Taft—blatant, imperturbable, smiling, but insistent—will be at the head of the party; for that is his way.

The man, who cannot understand the relations between Beverly and Oyster Bay needs to review the A. B. C.'s of politics. While President Taft is attending to the engraving of progressive policies on the nation, Roosevelt is keeping in touch with the insurgent element. The insurgents possess initiative and courage and the qualifications for local leadership; but their conduct ever since Roosevelt's return shows that not one of them rises sufficient to superior to his fellows to take the lead, and so they turn to the president as their commander. When the next Republican national convention comes around, Providence not intervening, Roosevelt probably will have the insurgent vote to deliver to whomsoever he chooses; President Taft with his federal patronage will have the southern delegates bound to him; and a combination of the two will determine the action of that convention. Until that time Mr. Roosevelt will go on preaching his political doctrines and encouraging the revolt from the old party leaders, who supported Fairbanks and opposed the nomination of Taft, saying nothing about the present administration directly; while President Taft will continue his policies unimpeded by the injection of Roosevelt's personality into affairs of state. But when 1912 comes, the way of Taft and the way of Roosevelt will converge, and fortunately, for the writers, who have been predicting trouble, their mid-summer madness will have been forgotten.

He had much to learn in the way of small politics upon his accession, but in the wider range he was already master. One of his pet devices was to break the solid south, and he chose Tennessee as the state in which to make his first plea. He is blamed by the "regular" Democratic press with being the chief cause of the coalition against the Patterson machine in that commonwealth; and whether or not he be guilty, the defeat of Patterson by a majority of 40,000 is not improbable.

Under his administration, the interpretation of the anti-trust law by the court of last resort is coming to pass; and Providence has thrust upon him the duty of filling, at least two, and probably four places on the supreme court bench, thus placing virtually in his hands the settlement of a policy that will affect, perhaps, the social history of the world, as it placed in his hands the determination of the American colonial policy.

Roosevelt and Bryan will go down into history as the great preachers of civic morality; but the practical application of those moral principles to the system of government and the direction of policies likely to affect the ultimate destiny of the nation were left to William H. Taft.

He moves too slowly for the theorist, and too fast for the short-sighted railroad interests; but one step at a time, with an eye scrutinizing the place for the next step, over a course laid out by compass, is the safest way—and that is the way of William H. Taft.

The shiftless man is always religious—he lets God take care of his family.

A Cabbage Snake.

While preparing a cabbage for dinner last Saturday Mrs. R. W. Rowland found a cabbage snake snugly coiled in the heart of the cabbage. The "reptile" was about three inches long and had the exact appearance of the cabbage snakes that were so numerous a few years ago. Needless to say, there was no cabbage served at the Rowland household last Saturday.—Carlisle County News.

The Cost of Vanity.

An exchange gives an incident that illustrates the impossibility of telling where the trouble resulting from a mortgage will end. A man mortgaged his farm to buy his wife a pair of ear rings. The wife took in washing to pay the interest on the mortgage and the first day lost one of the diamonds in the suds and tried to hang herself in the barn, but the rope broke and she fell on a $150 Jersey cow, breaking its back.—Grant County News.

Wonders of Marshall.

The Rev. W. R. Butler, farmer and butcher of Route 3, brought to this office a radish nearly 20 inches long and about 3 inches in diameter.

Mrs. J. C. Story, who resides on a farm on Route 6, sent to this office last Saturday peas measuring 19 inches in length and bearing two to each stem.

Mrs. J. W. Smith in North Benton, raised a cucumber in her garden this year, measuring 19 1/2 inches in length and 12 inches in circumference.

Mr. T. F. McNeely, of Aurora, raised on two acres of land, with two and one-half bushels of seed, fifty bushels of fine wheat.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

CENTRAL AMERICA KNOWS JOHN MOISSANT, AVIATOR.

Career of Man Who Carried Passenger in Airship Across Channel.

New York, Aug. 19.—In Nicaragua and the various other republics of Central America, where many Americans of adventurous spirit have staked their lives and reputations on their quickness with a gun, John Moissant bears a reputation as a soldier of fortune.

At the time Moissant was sojourning in Honduras, it was told by a Nicaraguan, a tramp steamer loaded with a cargo valued at something like $100,000, was cast ashore during a storm and abandoned. That night, in the teeth of the gale, Moissant made his way alone to the steamer in a small dugout and took possession of the vessel.

In the morning the storm abated and the ship's captain, accompanied by members of the crew, rowed out to the ship, which had withstood the pounding of the sea and wind, but which was held fast on a sunken reef in the outer harbor. They were halted by a shot from Moissant's revolver. Moissant claimed the ship and her cargo as salvage and threatened to "blow the head off the first man who tried to come aboard."

There was a second expedition to the ship, this time with the American consul and some native soldiers, but to show his sincerity of purpose Moissant shot a hole through the sombrero of the native commandant.

Brothers Were Arrested.
The expedition returned to shore for re-inforcements of artillery, but during the night another storm swept the harbor and foundered the vessel. Moissant was taken off later by the American consul, who found him lashed to the topmast rigging, only a few feet above the water.

Previous to this exploit, Moissant appeared in the news columns as handling a rapid-fire gun for the Nicaraguans in an attack on Salvador during one of the recent outbreaks there.

The Moissant brothers—George, Alfred and John—and two sisters for many years had interests valued at several hundred thousand dollars. In 1907 George and Alfred Moissant were imprisoned on charges of aiding the revolutionists of Salvador. John was actively implicated in the movement against President Figueroa.

When the revolutionists were re-pressed by government troops at Acacajua, John Moissant fled to Nicaragua. His brothers later were released, but their property was attached by the government as a bond to prevent their escape from the country.

M'MAHON'S CONSCIENCE

Sends Him From Bellevue to Police With Confession of Assault.

New York, Aug. 19.—A man walked up to the desk of the East Thirty-fifth street police station and told Lieutenant Miller that he wanted to give himself up. He said he was Edward McMahon, 26 years old, a carpenter. McMahon said that on August 1 he assaulted his landlady, Mrs. Bessie Taylor, of 509 Third avenue. His conscience has been troubling him since then, he said, and when he was discharged from the alcoholic ward of Bellevue hospital he walked over to the police station.

Mrs. Taylor has several furnished rooms on the third floor of 509 Third avenue. She was making up the beds on the afternoon of August 1 when a man walked into the room and struck her with a hammer. It was some time before she regained consciousness, and when she did the man was gone. Mrs. Taylor has been too badly frightened to recollect the man's appearance. She said that $11 had been stolen.

McMahon denied that he had stolen any money. He didn't know why he assaulted Mrs. Taylor.

BAKE DEAD; MOTHER DYING.

Condition Found at Chicago Home—Fear of Insanity.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Returning from a shopping trip, Mrs. G. H. Fortmiller found her 9-months-old baby smothered to death and her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Bartell, unconscious from razor wounds across the throat.

When restored to consciousness, Mrs. Bartell, who is 62 years old, declared that the house had been entered by a stout man who attacked her with a razor. The police began a close examination of this story. The house was not in disorder when Mrs. Fortmiller discovered the tragedy. There had been no attempt at robbery and it was discovered that all the doors and windows of the house were locked. The razor with which Mrs. Bartell had been cut was found behind a bath tub. Mrs. Fortmiller said that her mother had been complaining of pains in her head recently.

UNCLE SAM SLIGHTED.

South America Buys Little of Our Cotton Goods.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Although Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay purchase more than $20,000,000 worth of cotton goods every year, less than $300,000 of this trade is with the United States, according to a report to the department of commerce and labor from an agent who has been traveling through South America, for the department, investigating the cotton goods industry. His report has been published in a monograph by the bureau of manufacturers. The chief obstacle to larger sales, says the report, seems to be the failure of American manufacturers to conform closely to the requirements of the market. The United States, he adds, has the advantage of lower freight rates than European countries.

In Argentina the cotton goods trade practically is controlled by a few big foreign houses that have long established connections with European forms and in many cases practically are exporters' agents.

MONKEY NEEDS A SURGEON.

Keenan Has to Revise First Diagnosis, for Joe Hasn't Toothache.

New York, Aug. 19.—"Got a toothache, Joe?" said Keenan, keeper of the Central park monkey house, to the six-months-old dog faced baboon, who is a pet there. Joe simply held on tightly to his jaw with both hands and looked woebegone.

That was three days ago. Yesterday Joe was hopping around in such a comic-pathetic imitation of a man with a jumping nerve that Keenan made a close examination. Then he saw that Joe's trouble was not toothache. There were small ulcers on each jaw.

Keenan got a small lance, took Joe from the big cage into a smaller one, operated on the swellings and put the animal in a room by himself. Although Joe seemed to be relieved he was still out of sorts and would not be comforted. The monkeys displayed little sympathy for their fellow lodger.

RELIEF PARTY WRECKED.

Would-Be Rescuers of Erichsen Expedition Ashore at Greenland.

Copenhagen, Aug. 19.—Captain Elmar Mikkelsen with his expedition which sailed June 20, 1909, on the Danish arctic ship Albatross, to search for the bodies of the Erichsen Greenland expedition, were wrecked during the winter on the coast of east Greenland, according to advice received here today. Capt. Mikkelsen and the entire party were saved and landed on Shannon island, off the coast of King William land. From this point they were recently rescued by another ship.

The expedition for which Capt. Mikkelsen was searching when the Albatross was that of Mylius Erichsen, who perished in November, 1907, while trying to return from the north coast of Greenland by way of inland ice.

Seeks Runaway Brother.

New York, Aug. 19.—Repeated appeals by letter from his mother in Austria to find his brother, missing 12 years, have spurred Louis Wiesenberg, 25 years old, of No. 336 East Fifth street, to unusual activity, and yesterday, after appealing to the police for the third or fourth time, he came to the World office and asked the aid of publicity in his search. Twelve years ago, Wiesenberg said, his brother Joseph, then only 10 years old, was brought to this country from Krakow, Austria, by Mrs. Fanny Schonberg. After his father died Louis came here five years ago, but he was unable to locate Mrs. Schonberg, who is a cousin. Recently he found the Schonbergs at No. 405 East Eighth street. They told him his brother had run away from home when he was about 14 years old. "Every letter my mother writes to me," said Wiesenberg yesterday, "she urges me to find Joe. The police told me they could do nothing, as Joe is now over 21 years old. I hope I will find him or that he will write to his mother."

CONSPIRACY HEADED BY ZELAYA'S WIFE.

Followers, Tipsy, Reveals Trap to Make Dr. Irias Nicaraguan Chief.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Aug. 19.—Quick work on the part of President Madriz, of Nicaragua, prevented the overthrow of his government. According to information which has reached San Jose from Managua from an unquestionably reliable source, Mme. Zelaya, the wife of the deposed president of Nicaragua, organized a conspiracy to overthrow Madriz and install Dr. Irias in the presidential chair.

The conspirators had progressed to a point where they were almost ready to spring the trap, when one of the trusted followers of Mme. Zelaya got drunk and gave the plot away. President Madriz took steps to prevent the conspiracy from being carried out, and the plotters were frustrated. Mme. Zelaya was ordered to leave the country forthwith, and Madriz took pains to see that she was placed on board of the

BRITAIN NEEDS NEW FIREARM

SPITZEE BULLET GIVES KAISER'S ARMY BIG ADVANTAGE.

Recent Shooting Match at Bisleigh Points Moral for the English War Office.

GERMANY'S IS FAR BETTER

London, Aug. 19.—If ever the shooting at Bisleigh pointed a moral to the British war office, it has this year. Since the close of the international rifle meeting there, considerable interest has been taken by shooting men in the question of the comparative merits of the British service rifle and those employed in Germany, the United States and other countries, and in the alleged subject of the difference between the trajectories of the German spitze bullet and the British bullet, mark VI, 215 grains.

A large diagram was displayed at Bisleigh illustrating the dangerously effective flight of the German bullet, and, by comparison, the ineffective trajectory of the British service rifle. In the view of experts, that the shooting, illustrated most effectively that Great Britain needs a new rifle if her soldiers are not to be heavily handicapped in the event of their being opposed by those of other nations armed with more deadly weapons.

That the military authorities are alive in one respect to the need for provision which will place the man behind the British rifle in a more advantageous position is evident from the fact that experiments have been carried out with the new polished bullets. But there is unanimity of opinion among expert marksmen that the improved bullet, though undoubtedly giving a lower and therefore more deadly flight, will not remove the relative inferiority of the British arm. It will, they consider, be but a makeshift which will not adequately meet the needs of the situation. They can only be done by a new rifle which will yield the high velocity of the Mauser, the Ross and other types. In a word, the British rifle lacks efficiency.

Due to the Rifle.
Captain Courthorne, M.P., who successfully led the house of commons team at Bisleigh, says: "I consider the inferiority is chiefly due to the rifle itself, rather than to the bullet. Our bullet is out of date, no doubt, but it is the rifle which prevents us from having up to date ammunition. Having been made for the black powder cartridge, the chamber, space is so small that it is impossible to increase the charge sufficiently to give it very high velocity. If the chamber were bigger the pressure would be distributed to a better advantage. Mr. Caldwell will set his men at work making excavations tomorrow and the paving will be completed in a short time."

Beware of your victims. You can't trust a victim out of sight.
FIRST RULE OF HEALTH.
Is—"Keep the bowels active." The easiest, most effective way is to take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. These little sugar coated tablets are gentle yet firm, never harsh, painful or gripping.
The olive oil in them is soothing and healing. Dr. Edwards spent fifteen years in the preparation of this remedy for bowel and liver complaints.
It is the one laxative that does all that Calomel does, with none of Calomel's bad after effects.
Try Olive Tablets next time you need a laxative or a liver tonic. At all druggists. 10 and 25 cents. In vest pocket packages. The Olive Tablet Co., Portsmouth, Ohio.

Other Expert Opinions.
The criticism which comes from several marksmen qualified to express an expert opinion as follows on similar lines.
Major Ranken of the Eighth Royal Scots, one of the most experienced marksmen in the United Kingdom, says: "Of course, we are at a disadvantage with the Germans. The diagram shows that a man can stand up in front of the German bullet, but he can do so against our. In one case it will kill point blank, practically over 800 yards, in the other it will not do so over most of that distance. The new pointed bullet would only prove a makeshift, because you cannot use a high velocity."

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabatius, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills here child-birth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me and give you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."—Mrs. H. W. MITCHELL, Box 3, Wells, Maine.

Another Woman Helped.
Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth millions of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ammunition with the present breech action at all. We must have a new breech bolt before we obtain really satisfactory results."

Maj. F. E. Varley of the Honorable Artillery company, who ranks among England's leading shooting men, bases his opinion largely upon experience in the United States.

"The whole point," he observes, "is that the Lee-Enfield bolt has always been too weak, but the authorities would never admit that they were wrong. When it was introduced, nobody dreamt that musketry would attain the pitch it has with high explosive ammunition giving a great velocity."

For the Short Rifle.
"When the short rifle came in, a change should have been made. I saw the most thorough investigation made when the Americans tested for their short rifle. The Lee action was always the first or second to give way, and they selected the Mauser. The Americans use a comparatively light bullet and high explosive, and they get a tremendously flat trajectory."

"For a military weapon the first great point is a flat trajectory up to nine hundred yards, so that you can sweep the zone. It is Americans, whose training is extremely good, the militia draw the unlimited ammunition—get infinitely better results in field firing than we look like obtaining. I believe they are ahead of everybody else in the knowledge of musketry and ballistics. There is no reason why a lower trajectory should not be obtained with our pointed bullet, but nothing will get over the inherent weakness of the Lee bolt, looking at the base. There is no doubt the authorities will have to give it up sooner or later."

An Economical Funeral.
Here is a story which Secretary of War Dickinson, who is from the South and a student of the negro, tells of how a colored man planned to save money when his brother died. The dory went to the station agent in his little town, which was about 50 miles from Memphis, Tenn., and asked solemnly:
"Boss, how much is it to fetch a corpse from hyuh to Memphis?"
The agent told him.
"Well, boss, how much is it to fetch a corpse on round trip from hyuh to Memphis?"
This information was also given, but the agent added:
"I never heard of carrying a corpse on a round trip."
"Well, boss, you see, it's dis way," explained the dorky: "dis hyuh corpse is my brother an' we got a lot ob kin folks up in Memphis. All dem kin folks would come down hyuh to look at de corpse, an' dey would jes' eat me outen house an' home. I thought I'd save money by fetchin' dis corpse up dar an' lettin' 'em take a look at him. Den I could bring him back and bury him quick an' peaceful."—The Popular Magazine.

Her Oath.
A woman was called before one of the New York police courts as a witness in a petty case.
"Swear the witness," said the judge.
"I don't want to," she protested.
"But you must."
"Must I swear?"
"Certainly; do not delay this trial."
"Well," she said, "if I must, I suppose I must—Darn!"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

COMPANY FIGHTS SALTILLO CLAIMS

PACKET COMPANY SURRENDERS SUNKEN BOAT.

Files Petition in United States Court, Asking Injunction Against Litigants.

PLEADS LAW OF ADMIRALTY

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—To limit its liability incurred in the disaster of the City of Saltillo on May 11 last, when 12 passengers lost their lives, the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet company yesterday filed a petition in admiralty in the United States district court asking Judge David P. Dyer to name a trustee for the sunken boat and to grant an injunction restraining legal action of any kind against the company. Judge Dyer is also asked to appoint a commission to receive proof of claims. Finally, the petitioner asks that it be discharged from liability by surrender of the boat, now sunken at Glen Park, 24 miles below St. Louis on the Mississippi river.

The petition cites sections 4283-89 of the revised statutes of the United States, which regulate the amount of damage that may be recovered, which "shall in no case exceed the amount or value of the interest of such owner in such vessel and her freight then pending." Under this law the packet company's liabilities are limited to the value of the sunken boat as she lies mostly under water, abandoned by the board of underwriters, which attempted in vain to raise her.

The petitioner recites that the following suits are pending against it in the lower courts:

Suit for $10,000, brought by Annie Dougherty for the death of Harry Dougherty; suit for $10,000, brought by William H. Pickett for the death of William J. Pickett; freight damage suits brought by the Crown Cork and Seal company for $40.96; Thread Agency company, $49.60; Roofbestos Manufacturing company, $40.40; Stark Distilling company, $31.25. The names of 23 other claimants are cited.

The petitioner claims the right under the admiralty laws of the United States to contest the claims, and desires to surrender the City of Saltillo, together with all its parts and belongings, during the pendency of the proceedings, to a trustee to be appointed by the court. The petition also prays the court particularly for an injunction restraining the continuation of the suits now pending in the state courts.

It is also said that the City of Saltillo is complete loss, and amount of claims against her and against the petitioners far exceeds the value of the interest of the petitioner in the steamboat. The cause of the wreck is said to have been smoke from lime kilns obscuring the pilots' view.

FRUIT WILL COME FROM FAR WEST

Cincinnati, O.—(Special).—Southern fruit growers are welcoming the opportunity of displaying their products for comparison with the fruits of the California horticulturists at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24. For some time the fruit growers of the South have been placing the choicest specimens of their groves and orchards in cold storage, with the result that as time passes a collection of Florida fruits as ever was assembled will be ready for display when the Exposition opens. Now comes word from California that the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles will apply for 1,500 square feet of floor space on which to make an exhibit, which shall consist principally of fruits, attractively arranged, and which are grown in the territory contiguous to the Southern California metropolis. Many of these fruits will be similar to those shown by the Florida growers, none of whom, however, fear the comparison, as Florida fruits long have had a high standing in the Ohio Valley market and are in no fear of being crowded out. One of the most interesting displays to be made by both sections will be that of grape fruit. Twenty years ago these mammoth globes of luscious citrus pulp were unknown to epicures. Today no breakfast table is complete without them, and the demand annually is much greater than the supply. It is estimated that 2,000,000 boxes of grape fruit, averaging about 50 pieces to the box and selling at an average of $2.03 per box, are consumed annually in the United States. Of this amount a large percentage comes from Florida, with California also producing an appreciable quantity, while Central America and the islands in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea supply the rest of the demand. It is expected that the general fruit display at the Exposition will be the most complete exhibit of this kind ever gathered together, with the South showing a greater variety than any other section of the country.

The First in Lassa. The Chinese invasion of Tibet reminds us that it was an Englishman, Thomas Manning, a friend of Charles Lamb, who first entered its capital, Lassa. Manning set off on his adventure without any aid from the government, and with only a single servant. His success was largely due to his meeting a Chinese General on the borders of Tibet, some of whose troops he cured of illness. In their country he traveled as a medical man, reaching Lassa in December, 1811. He remained there until 1812, when by peremptory orders from Peking he was sent back to India. Manning died in 1840, but his interesting narrative of the journey was not published until 1876.—London Chronicle.

VIRGINIA THE AIR

By HERBERT QUICK

Craighead remained motionless, his hand to his cap. The sergeant amazedly returned the salute. Craighead relaxed his tense muscles, dropped his hand to his side and winked with the utmost sobriety of expression.

"Podner," said he, "have yeh got any salt tobacco?"

"I'll trouble you gentlemen for your passes," returned the sergeant.

"Unfortunately," replied Mr. Craighead, "we omitted to obtain passes. Say no more, Mr. Sergeant. We are all soldiers. This is Genie Theodore Cabson, M. A., and this Mr. Waddy, who served in his youth in the typhoid uprising at Chickamunga in the Spanish-American war. Show your button, Mr. Waddy, as an S. A. W. V. You see, sergeant, that you are quite safe against our capturing Fort Morgan."

"Here's Captain Bolger now. Tell him about it."

Captain Bolger was a choleric gentleman with whiskers like General Sherman's, much thinned by the increase in the area of the face since the establishment of the foliage. He advanced rapidly, with a hippety-hopping gait, as if catching step with an imaginary companion very careless of the march.

"What's this, sergeant?" he sputtered. "This is quite irregular, sergeant. Irregular. The parade ground! A d—d thing with wings and V type engines! And no passes? Some one will sweat for this. Highly irregular!"

"Pardon me," said Theodore. "My name is Carson. I miscalculated my speed. I know Colonel Krimnitz, and if—"

"Colonel Krimnitz, sir," said Captain Bolger, "is temporarily on leave. I am the officer of the day, sir. You will produce a pass for your confounded aeroplane or I shall order you—"

"I feel sure," said Mr. Carson, "that Colonel Krimnitz—"

"Colonel Krimnitz be hanged!" retorted Captain Bolger. "You can't come the Krimnitz game, sir, while he is on leave, sergeant."

"Captain!" said the sergeant, saluting.

"See what that thing is in the fellow's hand," pointing to Mr. Waddy's camera. "Take it, and if it's a bomb explode it at sea. If it's a camera turn it over to me instantly and confine these men. My compliments to Major Flathers, and say to him that I have confined three men who ran the guard in an airship, with bombs or cameras, as the case may be; that I have the airship under guard and await his instructions at headquarters."

And Captain Bolger hippety-hopped to headquarters, followed by a soldier with a camera. The three interlopers went into the guardhouse, while Captain Bolger's message went to Major Flathers, commandant in the absence of Colonel Krimnitz.

"I won't stand it!" Mr. Waddy shouted. "I want to wire John H. Gunn! I want to wire Washington. I tell you John H. Gunn, speaker of the house! He'll make somebody chew hay for this!"

Mr. Craighead began humming "It's Twenty Miles to Vassar," evidently a West Point ditty, paced the guardhouse, turning corners with military precision or stood accurately with certain fingers on certain seams of his trousers as precise as a tin soldier.

The atmosphere had permeated his system, and when a corporal's guard called for them his stride might have been offered as a model.

Access to Major Flathers' desk was opened for them by orderlies described by Mr. Waddy as state's prison looking fellows, armed to the teeth. The major was thin, solemn, bilious looking, as if he had a bad liver from service in the tropics; haughty, as if the liver had overthrown his temper.

"Who are you?" said Major Flathers. "Who are we?" cried Mr. Waddy. "Who are we? American citizens, sir! Citizens and taxpayers before you was ever born, sir! Wire John H. Gunn at Washington! That Cyrus Waddy's shut up in jail, an' you'll find out! You'll!"

"It would seem an economy of time, Mr. Waddy," said the major, after quelling him with a yellow glower, "not to trouble Mr. Gunn or the president, who might find it inconvenient to attend for purposes of identification. What can you say, sir?"

This query was directed at Craighead.

"Most high and illustrious one," said he, "the world is wide, its population some sixteen hundred millions. Of this considerable force we are but three. You ask us, O serenity, to set ourselves apart from the others by brands and marks. How can the thing be proved? It is a hard saying, and yet did ever see that serrated nose? Give me a pen, and let me mark it 'Exhibit A'!"

The major arose with pronounced absence of haste, adjusted a pair of rimless glasses to his precipitous beak by a clasp of special construction, examined Craighead's nose critically and impersonally, as if looking at a specimen in a case, slowly removed the glasses and deliberately resealed himself.

"I have observed such a nose in but one case," said he, "but its introduction in evidence does not establish its identity with the only snout of similar symmetry recorded. 'Exhibit A' will be considered for what it is worth—as evidence. Proceed."

"I will now render a song, which I beg this honorable body to receive as 'Exhibit B.'"

Through this declaration made a distinct sensation among the officers and orderlies, and though the sergeant, who was a shorthand reporter, broke three pencils in his agitation, Major Flathers never let down by even one degree the saturnine dignity of his presence. Craighead sang with a fine independence of tune, but with an air and style of tone emission which reminded all hearers of a basso profundo laboring in the trough of the heaviest vocal sea.

Oh, it's twenty miles to Vassar, and the Hudson for to cross!
There's regulations to be broke at both ends of the route,
But Belinda's eyes are like the sky, Belinda's hair is flow,
And Jim is black and plagued with love and doesn't care a hoot.

Oh, it's twenty miles to Vassar,
But it's fifty miles at Vassar,
And it's other love-dovey things in hosts beyond compare!

Oh, the love of dear Belinda burns his heart into a cinder,
And Jim will be at Vassar ere the morning!

A slight redness crept up under the tan of Major Flathers' cheek; a slight quiver of the thin nostril betrayed the fact that Craighead's song had touched some spot that thrilled. Mr. Craighead asked if it would be necessary to adduce more proof of his identity.

"Possibly," said the major, with unabated dignity. "I shall hear the case in private."

The major rose and passed out without a glance at the intruders. The squad took them to his quarters, where he received them in frozen stiffness and stood aside to let them into a library rather well furnished with books.

The major sat like a graven image until the receding footsteps were lost to the ear. Then he rushed at Craighead, shook him until his teeth chattered, laughing, slapping him on the back.

"Craig! Craig!" said he. "You confounded old scapgrace! I've an infernal good mind to throw you in for ten years! And that Belinda song you made up about me! And sober too! Introduce your friends!"

"With Mr. Waddy's name," said Craighead, "you are familiar. He is the billionaire owner of Speaker Gunn."

"Confoundedly sorry," said the major. "But if this reprobate," indicating Craighead, "had hinted that he was our West Point disgrace I should have issued passes and—"

"And this," said Craighead, "is the inventor and builder of our airship, Theodore Carson, M. A."

"Quite so," replied the major, shaking hands again. "But it was confoundedly tregrular to run the guard, you know."

"We didn't intend!"

"Not a word," said the major. "You must dine with me. Mrs. Flathers will waive ceremony. She isn't Belinda. Craig, you disreputable old dog, disguised as a sober man! Could be found out the prank of Cupid.

MODEL SCHOOL AT STATE FAIR
Practical Exhibit Promised as Result of Efforts of Kentucky Women.

The people of Kentucky have grown to look upon their annual state fair as one of the greatest educational institutions in the commonwealth. Many evidences of practical development and enlargement along live stock and agricultural lines are traceable directly to these annual exhibitions. A display specifically along educational channels will be made at the approaching eighth annual state fair, which will be held in Louisville Sept. 12-17.

A model rural school building will be erected and maintained and the enterprise is to be fostered and carried out entirely by the women of Kentucky. This important work is in the hands of the Ladies' Auxiliary Advisory Board. This board was recently appointed, and consists of the following members: Mrs. James A. Leech, Louisville; Mrs. James A. Mitchell, Bowling Green; Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville; Mrs. John B. Castanien, Louisville; Mrs. John A. Stratton, Louisville; Mrs. John H. Miller, Valley Station, and Miss Laura Clay, Richmond.

With the aid of Secretary J. W. Newman of the state fair, and Prof. Ellsworth Regenstein, superintendent of public instruction, the work has been pushed rapidly, and the model schoolhouse will be erected prior to the fair and will be found complete in every detail when visitors begin to assemble on the first morning. As the state fair draws visitors from every section of Kentucky, this movement is considered one of the most important ever undertaken by a similar institution in this or any other state.

The members of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and all women's organizations of the state have undertaken a campaign for funds, and early reports indicate that they are meeting with success. Both inside and out, the proposed school building will be a model in every particular.

Collie Dogs on Parade.
The exhibit of collie dogs at the Kentucky State Fair, which will begin in Louisville on September 12, will be a particularly pleasing one. Already the list of entries is large, and the prizes are the best ever offered. The rules of the American Kennel Club will govern the collie dog show, and these rules may be had on application to Secretary J. W. Newman, Louisville, Ky.

For catalogue, entry blanks or any other information regarding the Kentucky State Fair, address J. W. Newman, secretary, 320 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

How To Do It.
A young gentleman with a very plain face was rather annoyed because his views of the stage was obstructed by the hat of a pretty girl who was sitting in front of him in the gallery.

Wishing to get a glimpse of the performance, he picked up courage and, in a nervous voice, exclaimed: "See here, miss, I want to look as well as you."

"Oh, do yer?" she replied, in a rich Cockney accent, as she turned round and looked at him squarely in the eye. "Then you'd better turn home and change your face."—Tit-Bits.

LIVINGSTON CO. SCHOOLS TO OPEN

MONDAY IS DAY SET FOR ALL BUT GRADED SCHOOLS.

Teachers' Institute Held at Smithland—Sunday School Meet.

Smithland, Ky., Aug. 19.—The Livingston county teachers' institute was opened Monday morning.

Prof. T. J. Conter for the fourth time is our instructor.

The institute is organized with Supt. O. R. Hurley as presiding officer; Mrs. W. C. Pierce, secretary; Miss Mamie Yates, assistant secretary; O. L. Vick, vice-president.

On Tuesday the County Teachers' association was reorganized by electing the following new officers for the ensuing year: President, O. R. Hurley; vice-president for each division, Prof. W. M. Cox was president last year. A splendid program was rendered last evening at the Methodist church.

A petition is being signed by the teachers asking the fiscal court to increase Superintendent Hurley's salary to $700 as a matter of justice to him.

Livingston Schools.
All the rural schools of the county begin next Monday morning. There may be a school or two that has been unable to secure a teacher and consequently cannot begin, but nearly all, if not all, will begin the fall work next Monday, August 22.

The county board of education some time ago made an order establishing uniformity for beginning.

The graded schools are not affected by the recent order of the county board of education and consequently will not begin on the day fixed for the rural schools. The graded schools and their teachers are as follows:

Smithland School.—The principal of the Smithland graded school is Prof. W. M. Cox. Prof. E. C. Boyd and Mrs. W. M. Cox are the assistants. School begins September 5. This school is the County High school. The whole county has interest in it.

Grand Rivers School.—Prof. T. E. Guile, one of our county teachers, is principal, with Miss Grace Shelby, of Tennessee, and Miss Edwina Nelson as assistants. School begins September 5.

Carrsville School.—Prof. M. C. Wright will again be at Carrsville as principal. Miss Lou Culver is to be assistant teacher. Special efforts will be made to enroll day pupils. School opens September 5.

Salem School.—Prof. W. G. Montgomery, of this county, is principal and Miss Clara Love will be assistant. School does not open until October as no house is yet prepared.

Hampton School.—At Hampton Prof. O. L. Vick and Miss Linnie Nelson as assistant will have charge of the school. School opens September 5.

Board Organized.
The Smithland Educational Division No. 1, board of trustees, was organized by Superintendent O. R. Hurley at the Mantz school house. Mr. W. Y. Compton was re-elected chairman and Mr. W. L. Powell, secretary. Mr. Compton will be a member of the county board of education next year.

A Double Wedding.
Instead of visiting relatives near Smithland, as was planned, Misses Cora and Hattie Champion, who formerly lived here, changed their minds and went to Fulton, where they were married. Mr. Ben Champion, their brother, went to Paducah to meet them on their way from Mayfield, and waited two days before troubled look on her face. Carson turned white as he tore it open and read:

Football Rules Are Finally Announced By Committee

New York, Aug. 19.—After labor lasting nearly all summer the football rules committee today made public the rules which are to govern the game during the season of 1910. Changes adopted are revolutionary in character and calculated to minimize the danger of fatal accidents existing under the old rules.

For one thing, the time of play is divided into four periods of 15 minutes' duration instead of the traditional two halves of 35 minutes each. The usual intermission of 15 minutes is maintained between the second and third period, but an intermission of three minutes only is allowed between the first and second and third and fourth periods. During this short intermission no player will be allowed to leave the field nor will anyone be permitted to come on the field save only the individual who looks after the physical condition of the players.

At the beginning of the second and fourth periods the teams change goals but the down, the relative spot on the down, the possession of the ball and the distance to be gained remain as they were at the conclusion of the preceding period of play.

Flying Tackle Abolished. Another radical change is that governing the flying tackle. This has been entirely eliminated by a new ruling which provides that a player must have one foot at least on the ground when tackling an opponent. The new legislation governing the forward pass, which a number of the experts were inclined to abolish altogether, will materially alter the play and aspect of the game.

This year's rules provide that a player is only qualified to receive a forward pass who is at least one yard back of his own line of scrimmage, or occupies the position on the end of said line. No man may make a forward pass or kick the ball unless he is five yards back of the line of scrimmage.

The territory forward of the line of scrimmage, and consequently in the enemy's camp, is adjudged neutral for a distance of 20 yards pending the completion of a forward pass or kick. A forward pass is not legal if the ball crosses a line 20 yards in advance of the spot where it was put in play before touching the spot where it was put in play before touching the ground or a player.

In the case of a kick, the players on the defense within the twenty-yard zone must not interfere with the ends, or other players in any way until their opponents have advanced 20 yards beyond the line of scrimmage.

Interlocked Interference. Interlocked interference, that is, players of the side having the ball, taking hold of each other, or using their hands or arms to grasp their team mates in any way is forbidden and it is also forbidden for any man on the side having the ball to push or pull in any way the man running with them.

Another innovation is to be noted in regard to the substitution of players during a game. A rule has been passed which provides that a player who has been removed for any cause except disqualification or suspension may be returned to the game once at the beginning of any subsequent period.

The longitudinal lines formerly marking the field are done away with, as the quarter back may now cross the line of scrimmage at any point.

The new rules have already been adopted by all the large colleges, nearly all of them being represented on the rules committee, which consists of L. M. Dennis, Cornell, E. K. Hall, Dartmouth; James A. Babbitt, Haverford; John C. Bell, University of Pennsylvania; Crawford Blagden, Harvard; Wilton Camp, Yale; Paul J. Ashill, Annapolis; W. D. Dudley, Vanderbilt; Parke H. Davis, Princeton; Lieut. H. H. Hackett, West Point; Dr. W. A. Lambeth, University of Virginia; C. W. Savage, Oberlin; A. A. Staggs, University of Chicago, and H. L. Williams, University of Minnesota.

FOR CONVENTION

INDEPENDENT COMMITTEE MEETS AND ISSUES CALL.

In Absence of Chairman Vertrees, Gen. Harvey H. Hannah, Presides.

Nashville Tenn., Aug. 19.—The independent Democratic state committee at its meeting here adopted a resolution calling an independent Democratic state convention for September 14.

The committee met at the Maxwell house at noon. Practically all of the members were present in person or by proxy. Gen. H. H. Hannah was elected chairman pro tem in the absence of Chairman W. O. Vertrees.

The resolution calls for a state convention to be held in Nashville Wednesday, September 14 for the purpose of taking such action as may seem necessary regarding a candidate for governor, nominating a candidate for railroad commissioner from West Tennessee, electing a new state committee and adopting a platform.

The committee adopted a resolution recommending that county conventions to be held on the first Monday in September to select delegates to the state convention, and to take action looking to a thorough reorganization of the Democratic party with reference to selection of county executive committees, if such seems advisable. The committee then adjourned.

PLEA FOR PEACE.

Fitzgerald Says Let Vanderbilt Board Fill Vacancies.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—In the current issue of the Christian Advocate, Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, of the M. E. Church, South, makes a plea for peace in the Vanderbilt university controversy, saying: "Let the Vanderbilt board of trust go on filling vacancies in their body as a bona fide board of visitors. That is to say, let them visit the university at proper times and report according to accepted conclusions as to what are the functions of such bodies. If all is going right with the university, let them so report to the whole church through its connectional body, the general conference. If anything needs correction in the condition or management of the university let the board of visitors so report."

CONTRACT LET

G. W. KATTERJOHN WILL BUILD WAREHOUSE.

Big Concern on Kentucky Avenue Will Cost $13,999—The Plans.

Contractor G. W. Katterjohn was the successful bidder for the work of constructing the mammoth tobacco factory of the Italian Regie Tobacco company to be located on Kentucky avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets. His bid was $13,999. The building is to be similar to the Hodge Tobacco factory at Tenth and Madison streets. The contract was closed last night with the following other bids submitted: William Karnes, $15,715; B. T. Davis, $15,258; Jack Cole, $14,669; J. M. Byrd, $16,550; George Weikel, $14,619; Gus Lockwood, $14,298; G. W. Katterjohn, $13,999.

The contract was awarded by A. J. Dickerson, agent for the company. Mr. Katterjohn recently completed a large warehouse at Mayfield for the American Snuff company and is now erecting a large building for it at Clarksville. He constructed the Hodge factory here.

The main building of the new factory will be two stories in height and will be 180x50 feet in dimensions. The machine rooms will be 100x30 feet and the bulking room 100x60 feet. Several smaller buildings will be for the boiler house, the cooper shop and storage sheds. The factory will be built on the spur of the railroad tracks and between 100 and 200 hands will be employed.

The contract signed last night calls for the completion of the buildings by November 15 with a forfeit of $25 per day over this time. The company has asked for exemption from municipal taxation and the general council has ordered an ordinance covering this.

HAVE YOUR KITCHEN COOL

These hot days when the thermometer is soaring around 100°, don't increase the heat of your kitchen by using a coal stove; install a GAS RANGE in its place, and have your kitchen as cool as any room in the house.

COMFORT in cooking is a great enough advantage in itself, but when you add to that CONVENIENCE, CLEANLINESS, SAFETY and ECONOMY, you have the ideal method of cooking. You can have all these advantages if you will replace your coal stove with a GAS RANGE and
